Reading Comprehension Guide Questions

1. What is Boston famous for in terms of food?
2. Which region in the U.S. is known for its strong African influence in food?
3. Where was chop suey created?

Reading- American Food

Part 1

Hear the phrase "American food" and you probably think of hamburgers, hotdogs and French fries.

However, fast food isn't the only thing Americans eat!

Take a look at the wide variety of great regional food you can find across this huge country...

East Coast

Great for fish and seafood. Did you know Boston is famous for lobster?

Northwest

The northwest is famous for seafood, fish (especially salmon), strawberries and cheese. Pumpkin soup is one well-known dish.

Midwest

In the Midwest you can find corn, beef and dairy products. People say the best steak comes from Omaha!

Part

South²

In the southeast there is a strong African influence, with yams, spices and peanuts. Typical dishes include fried green tomatoes and fried chicken. In the southwest you can eat Tex-Mex- a mix of Texan and Mexican cooking. Enchiladas, fajitas, burritos and tacos are all very popular.

What's more, eat out in the U.S. and you have an international choice. There are great Italian restaurants everywhere! Italians first settled in the U.S. in the 1880s, and they brought with them their delicious food. Chinese food is also very popular. Did you know chop suey was created in San Francisco? There are also a lot of Japanese, Vietnamese and Thai restaurants in the U.S.

So remember, there's more to eat in the U.S. than just a burger and fries!
