PART 6 Production:
Situation

Situations

Imagine you are checking in at a hotel. And make a conversation between you and a receptionist.

Instructions:

1. Write a short conversation for checking in at a hotel.
2. Include at least 7-8 lines.
3. Make sure to include:
 - The length and dates you want to stay.
 - The type of room you want.
 - Asking about services and facilities.

A sample conversation

E.g.

Receptionist: Good afternoon. Welcome to Star Diamond Hotel. How can I help you?

Julia : Hi, I have a reservation under the name Julia Lee.

Receptionist: Let me check... Yes, Ms. Lee. You've booked a double room for a couple of nights, right?

Julia : That's correct.

Receptionist: May I see your ID, please?

Julia : Sure, here it is.

Receptionist: Thank you. Your room is on the 9th floor. Here's your key card.

Julia : Thanks. What time is breakfast served?

Receptionist: From 6.30 to 10 a.m. at the restaurant on the first floor.

Julia : Great. One more thing—do you have Wi-Fi?

Receptionist : Yes, the username and password are in your room. Enjoy your stay!
