

Chapter 2

Multicultural Society and the Recognition of Individual Diversity

Pinthakorn Namdee

What is Multiculturalism?

"Multiculturalism is defined as a socially dynamic phenomenon characterized by the continuous exchange and integration of diverse cultural elements. This process is rooted in the equitable recognition of all cultural identities, ensuring mutual respect and the preservation of cultural value without marginalization or devaluation of any specific group."

Conflict in Multicultural Societies

Identity

Society

Assimilation

Concepts for Coexistence in a Multicultural Society

1. Critical multicultural

2. Cosmopolitanism

Approaches for Coexistence in a Multicultural Society

1. Interreligious and Inter-belief Understanding
2. Social Interaction and Connectivity
3. Ethical Empathy and Mutual Needs Recognition
4. Empathetic Conflict Resolution
5. Conflict De-escalation Strategy
6. Equitable Treatment for All
7. Communal Solidarity and Reciprocity

Philosophical Foundations and the Recognition of Individual Diversity

1. Relativism
2. Moral Absolutism
3. Utilitarianism
4. Kantian

References

- Patcharamon Tosurat & Pinthakorn Namdee. (2024). Thai Citizenship in the Democratic Way. Nakhon Pathom: Nakhon Pathom Rajabhat University.
- Pinthakorn Namdee & Sumetee Hanchareonsap. (2024). Teaching Materials for the Course "Active Citizenship." Nakhon Pathom: Nakhon Pathom Rajabhat University.

Thank You

